Wood stated that Dr. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the Inventor of Chlorodyne, that the story or the Defendant, Freeman being the Inventor was deliberately untrue which he regretted had been sworn to Eminent Hospital Physician of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's. - See Times, July 12, 1884. The public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE, Remedial uses and action. This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates healthy action of the secretions of the body, without creating any o those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensively, using it in great quantities in the following diseases:—

Diseases in which it is found eminently useful—Cholera, Dysentery, Diarrhos, Coughs, Asthma, Rheumatism Neuralgia, Whooping, Cough, Cramp, Hys.

The Right Hon Earl Russell communi cated to the College of Physicians and J. T. Davenport that he had received informs tion to the effect that the only remedy of any service in Cholera was Chlorodyne,-See Lancet, Dec. 31, 1864.

From A. Montgomery, Esq., late Inspec tor of Hospitals, Bombay :- "Chlorodynes is a most valuable remedy in Neuralgia Asthma, and Dysentery. To it I fairly owe my restoration to health, after eighteen months' severe suffering, and when other remedies had failed."

(OZONIC OXYGEN)

The New Curative Agent, and only Reliable Remedy for Nervous and Liver

This Phosphatic combination is pronounced by the most eminent members of the Medical Profession to be unequalled for its power in repleni-shing the vitality of the body, by its supplying all the essential constituents of the blood and nerve substance, and for developing all the powers and functions of the system to the highest degree. It is agreeable to the palate, and innocent in its action, while retaining all its extraordinary properties; and as a specific, surpassing all the known therapeutic agents of the present day for the speedy and permanent cure of Nervous Prostration, Liver Complaints, Palpitation of the Heart, Dizziness, Noises in the Head and Ears Loss of Energy and Appetite, Hypochondria Female Complaints, General Debility, Indiges tion, Flatulence, Incapacity for Study or Business, Sick Headache, Lassitude, Shortness of Breath, Trembling of the hands and limbs, Im. paired Nutrition, Mental and Physical Depression Consumption (in its first stages only), Timidity Eruptions of the Skin, Impaired Sight and Memory, Nervous Fancles, Impoverished Blood Nervous Debility in all its Stuges, Premature Decline, and all morbid conditions of the system srising from whatever cause. The action of the Phosphodyne is twofold-on the one hand in creasing the principle which constitutes nervous energy, and on the other the most powerful blood and flesh generating agent known; therefore, marvellous medicine for renovating impaired and broken-down constitutions. It quickly improves the functions of assimilation to such a degree, that where for years an emaciated, anxious cadaverous, and semi-vital condition has existed the flesh will rapidly increase in quantity and firmness, and the whole system return to a state of robust health. The Phosphodyne acts electrically upon the organisation; for instance, it assists nature to generate that human electricity which renews and rebuilds the osseons, muscular nervous, membranous, and organic systems. I operates on the system without exciting care or thought upon the individual as to the process. It moves the lange, liver, heart, kidneys, stomach, mildness unparalleled in medicine. The Phosphodyne gives back to the human structure, in a suitable form, the phosphoricor animating element of life, which has been wested, and exerts an important influence directly on the spinal marrow and nervous system, of a natritive, tonic, and invigorating character, maintaining that buoyant energy of the brain and muscular system which renders the mind cheerful, brilliant, and energetic, Antirely overcoming that dull, inactive, and sluggish disposition which many persons experience in all their

and intestines, with a harmony, vigour, yet

The beneficial effects of the Phosphodyne are frequently shown from the first day of its administration, by a remarkable increase of nervous power, with a feeling of vigour and comfort, to which the patient has long been unaccustomed. Digestion is improved; the appetite increases wonderfully; the bowels become regular; the eyes brighter; the skin clear and healthy; and the hair acquires strength, showing the importance of the action of the Phosphodyne on the rgans of nutrition.

Finally, the Phosphodyne maintains a certain degree of activity in the previously debilitated nervous system; its use enables all debilitated organs to return to their sound state and perform their natural functions. Persons suffering from Nervous Debility, or any of the hundred symptoms which this distressing disease assumes, may rest assured of an effectual and even speedy curey the judicious use of this most invaluable remedy.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr Epps has provided our breaklast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by kerping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."-See article in the Civil Service Gazette.

The Greatest Wonder of Modern Times!

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS Persons suffering from weak or debilltated constitutions will discover that by the use of this wonderful medicine there is "Health for all." The blood is the fountain of life, and its purity can be maine tained by the use of these Pills. Sir Samuel Baker, in his work entitled "The Nile Tributaries in Abysainia," says, "I ordered the dragoman Mahomet to inform the Fakey that I was a Doctor, and that I had the best medicines at the serwice of the sick, with advice gratic. In a short time I had many applicants, to whom I served out a quantity of Holloway's Pills, These are most useful to an explorer, as possessing unmistakable purgative propere ties they create an undeniable effect upon the patient, which satisfies bim of their

THE CHINA MAIL.

HONGKONG, SATURDAY, JUNE 10, 1876.

THERE is only one point in the letter of

"J. J. S. S.," which we published last night, that seems to call for a few additional remarks. It is that of the abolition of capital punishment in Portugal, and the difficulty that consequently exists cerned. on the part of the Government of the country in making a rendition treaty with a power that retains it. In this matter the Portuguese certainly deserve the credit of being consistent. The statement, however, advanced by ou correspondent in favour of the abolition of capital punishment, that human life is held more valuable as civilisation advances, can be made to bear in an exact! opposite direction. If human life is held more dear than it was, even in the estimation of murderers, all the more resson why the deverest and most deterring of all punishments should be inflicted upon them for taking it. Impaled on the pike of one of those villainous pltates who at one time infested these seas, our worthy correspondent, though such a "devoted and humble" subject of his country, would, we fear, be inclined to cast serious reflections of those Portuguese statesmen who thought hanging too severs a punishment for his antagonist. If "J. J. B. S." is of a different opinion he will at all events admit the extreme probability that the attempts made to suppress piracy and readiness to hand over to the Portuguese for trial certain pirates who were offenders against ourselves as well as them. Seeing that there would be every chance that these men would get off with something less than capital punishment, no matter how many foul murders or outrages might be proved against them, it is not a very great matter of surprise that we should prefer dealing with them under our own laws. At present we have not advanced to that state of civilisation. when, following in the footsteps of l'ortugal, we shall look upon deep dyed criminals with a comparatively kindly eye and for our own part we are in no partilightenment.

THE "Returns of Trade at the Treaty

Ports in China," published by order of the Inspector General of Customs, which we have received to-day, place us in possession of some most valuable information respecting the state of trade at these ports during the last ten years. Turning to the returns of the annual value of the foreign trade in China during that period we find there is apparently not so much cause for grumbling after all at the aspect of commercial matters in China, for while in 1865, just ten years ago, the total value of the trade was Taels 109,818,732, in 1875 it was Taels 136,716,176. The increase seems to have been gradual and regular except in 1872, when it suddenly went up from Taels 136,956,238 to Taels 142,605,174. The Customs Revenue for the same period also shows a corresponding in crease. Coming to the value of the trade done with each country from 1868 to 1875, we find that that with Great Britain is set down in 1868 as Taels 59,963,068 and in 1875 as Tael 50,297,151, thus showing a decrease that with Hongkong in 1868 as Taels 21,972,815 and in 1875 as Taels 40,272,129, thus showing an increase of nearly 100 per cent. The trade with Hongkong last year as compared with the previous year also exhibits a considerable increase. With India the trade has decreased during the seven years, with Singapore and the Straits i has largely increased, with Australia it has decreased and with New Zealand it has increased. The total import Opium in 1874 was Taels 28,564,782 and in 1875 Taels 25,555,065; of Cotton Goods in 1874 Taels 18,270,196 and in 1875 Taels 20,061,143 of Woollen Goods in 1874 Taels 4,049,073 and in 1875 Taels 4,561,421; of Miscellaneous Piece Goods in 1874 Taels 90,818, and in 1875 Taels 177,848. As to the export native goods to foreign countries, the total value of the same in 1874 was Taels 66,712,868 and in 1875 Taels 68,012,929. The net importation of Opium in 1868-Was Taels 53,915 and in 1875 Taels With respect to the export of tea to foreign countries during the last ten years, not such a large increase as might be expected is shown. In 1866. it was 1,192,138 piculs, and in 1875 was 1.818,387. The annual value of the whole trade carried on in foreign vessels at Newchwang in 1875 was Taels 5,513,055; at Tientsin Taels 17,058,711 at Chefoo Taels 7,786,768; at Hankow Taels 32,955,514; at Kiukiang Taels 12,829,172; at Chinkiang 12,403,137; at Shanghai 44,866,937; at Ningpo Tuels 12,846,315; at Foochow Taels 18,098,568; Amoy Taels 9,032,686; at Swatow Taels 9,032,686 and at Canton Tls. 16,612,747.

complains that we have not exhibited a | WE are informed by the agents (Messas Jardine, Matheson & Co.) that the B. S. Glenroy left Singapore for this port on the evening of the 9th instant.

> We have received another letter from "J.J.S.S." on the Rendition question, but must hold over the same until Monday.

THE Programme of the entertainment at the Temperance Hall on Monday evening is a very promising one, and we hope to see a large audience.

WE are requested to state that two mails will be closed for Hainan on Wednesday morning next at 7.30 ;—one by H: I. M. S. Shen chi, the other to be forwarded by overland courier from Canton.

WE learn from the agent of the P. M. S. S. Co., that the O. & O. S. S. Belgio, with mails from San Francisco to 16th May, left Yokohama for this port yesterday morning (9th).

WE learn that a number of boys, said to be: destined for the study of telegraphy, have been engaged here by the Chinese Government to go up to Tientain, and that they will start in a few days. The number engaged is limited to from six to eight, and we fancy they are not intended for the ordinary branch of transmitting telegraphic messages but for quite a new branch of electric transmission, viz., the firing of torpedoes, a school for the study of which has been lately opened in Tientsin under the direction of Mr Betts, late of Foothow. This is another step in the progress of the attempt to render China impregnable to external attack.

WE have received a copy of a View of Hongkong, taken by Afong, the photographer, from the standpoint of the new Kennedy Road, which gives probably a better inpression of the city and its surroundings than any view we have yet seen. The position of the new road is a most favourable one, and the artist has displayed considerable ability and taste in taking advantage of this fact as well as in the focal adjustment for his picture. Probably the scene in the foreground, comprehending the well-wooded spats from the Albany to the City Hall, may give an almost too flattering impression of our tight but rather barren little Island but that the view is a lovely onewell chosen, and well executed-no one will deny. The Peak on the left, and the Harbour on the right complete a very superior piece of photography, which will be a most important addition to the already large collection of views in China taken by this able and hard-working native artist.

In an edict appearing in the Peking Gazette of the 27th May, the death is announced

of Grand Secretary Wen-siang, who was one of the chief members of the Peking Government. He is spoken of in the edict as follows :- Grand Secretary Wen-siang, being pure and straightforward in his private life, skilful and careful in the service of the country; moreover, faithful, sincere, clearsighted, and upright; while honest, earnest, just and open, was promoted from an officer of one of the Boards to the rank of a minister of state by the late Emperor. Hienfung, and was appointed a member of the Council of Supreme Government. After this he was greatly relied upon-greatly trusted by the Two Empresses Dowager, and the late Emperor Tung athi. Police Intelligence.

(Before the Hon. O. May.) June 10, 1876.

Chan Ayow, a butcher, was again brought up for stealing a woman's black silk jacket. It was identified by an old woman as the property of her mistress. The defendant naid the jacket was given him to pawn by a woman named Yee So but he could not produce that woman. The defendant was sent to two months' hard labour.

OBSTRUCTING A POLICE OFFICER. Chun Ho Ki, a water coolle, was charged with obstructing a process-server attached to the Police Court in the execution of his duty. The complainant was serving asummons on a Chinaman charged with assault. Being unable to find him, the complainant applied to the defendant for information regarding the man. Thereupon the defendant said  You have no business in my house at all without a warrant, shew me your warrant." The complainant endeavoured to reason with him, but he became violent. He followed the complainant into the street, caused a crowd to collect around. and called out "You cannot go away without shewing me your warrant, and some persons called out "don't let him go" and others shouted out " beat him. A regular Constable passed by and complainant gave him into custody. The defendant said he knew nothing about the man the complainant wanted to serve a summons on, and believed that he had no business in the house. He therefore simply said to him "shew me your warrant. Fired 10s. in default 14 days' imprisonment STEALING BABBITS. The two Chinamen, Leong Apak and Leong Aching, boatmen on board the Powder Hulk, were again brought up on remand. Mr Webster stated that he had received instructions from Capt. Thomsett that no dogs were to be allowed on the leland (Stone-cutters'), but he had received special permission to keep a dog. He also received instructions that no man under him or any man was to touch the rabbits.

The Hon, P. Ryrie, who was sitting on the Bench at the time being interested in the abbit Warren, auggested a question whether on one occasion when the Hon. P. Rivrie and a friend went over there, the witness or the friend he had with him had or had not a black dog on the ground.

The Magistrate remarked that this question was beside the case, and witness need not answer it unless he liked. Witness denied that he had a dog there

The Magistrate said he did not believe the defendants' story, that they put the arabbit into the bucket for the purpose of feeding it, but as there was no evidence that they stole it, they were charged with unlawful possession of it only. They were fined $10 each. As sentence was being passed on the defendants, the anima succumbed and died in Court, leaving

ATTEMPT TO COMMIT SUICIDE. Mr R. F. Addyman, a clerk to the Honekong and Whampon Dock Company, was brought up to answerthe above charge Dr. O. J. He was brought there by Dr Young. He was then in a very depressed state of mind, and was suffering from several incised wounds on the throat. They were not very severe and the defendant was discharged from Hospital this morning, having remained there since hi admission. Witness asked defendant why he inflicted these cuts on his throat, and he said "because of the troubles I have (News.)The Flintshire is reported to be aground in the River, near Nanking.

As notified in our impression of Saturday, the C. N. Co. steamer Pekins left here at daybreak that morning to render assistance to the strand d steamer Hohentaufen. The Peking reached her shortly before eight o'clock, and after lightening her of 10,000 packages of tea, managed to tow her clear of the shoul late in the afternoon. At five o'clock the Peking, having returned her curso, left her and came to Shaughai. The Hohenstaufen followed her down the river and at seven o'clock she was last seen by the Peking, about five miles from Woosung

About two miles from Woosung, some natives have been employed plate-laying on the railroad, in the place of others who had been discharged. Those newly-employed lodged in a joss house near the scene of their work. On Friday night, some twenty or thirty of the old hands broke into the jom-house, beat the others and burnt some of their clothes. They also took one of the men, tied him to a post all night, and next morning gave him a thrashing and then sent him away. None of the victims were much hurt. The disturbance seems to have been the result of a quarrel between the old hands and the new comers: but its origin is unknown, except that perhaps the former felt themselves to have been superseded in their employ. It was, however, deemed best to inform the police authorities of the circumstance, and a small force of constables was sent into the neighbourhood, and remained there several hours. Everything was, however then quiet, and no arrests were made, the ringleaders having, it is eaid, absconded.

The winter is past, and the California spring has set in in all its glory. This is the time to see the country at its best Within three months from now, the magnificent spread of country which is covered with verdant fields, highly cultivated gardens and endless orchards, through which the tourist travels from morning to night with unabated admiration, will become seared by the heat and dust, and in course of another month the plains in the interior will become dry and arid, and the colour of the scenery be changed from an emerald green to a parched yellow.

We are rejoicing at the presence of a live Emperor in our midst. Dom Pedro, Sovereign of the Brazils, arrived here two and a pilot was waiting to take her out to days ago, and leaves us again within a day or two. He travels as a private gentleman; nevertheless all sorts of honours were proffered him, which were rejected by him both here and in New York, where he first landed. Considering it is the first time such distinguished person has been our visitor, the excitement he has caused may be excused even in a republican city like ours. At first, resentment was shown at His Maiesty's refusal to be honoured, and he was given to understand through one or more of our dailies, that he was not the only gentleman in California-that there were many here quite as good as he. His short stay will doubtless impress him with some idea. of the wealth and importance of our State,. although his conceptions of the latter may not exactly coincide with those of many our ardent citizens, who hold the belief that California "licks creation" in every respect. From this state His Majesty proceeds to examine the wonderful mining region of Nevada, and thence returns to Phiadelphia, to be present at the opening the Centennial.

The British vessel Crocus recently came into port from Hongkong with 882 Chinese on board. During the voyage the Captain had a good deal of trouble with his passengers, and had to use coercion to keep order. The Captain ascertained that they were women of doubtful character, and they were ordered ashore.

CHINESE GRATITUDE. We hear from Nanking that quite an extraordinary number of opium poisoning cases have occurred during the last few weeks, and that the fact is considered partly, at any rate, to be the result of the crusade waged by the Viceroy against opium smoking. Now while this vice is doubtless a great evil in itself, there is no doubt that occasionally it offers an advantage to the missionary. Some few months ago a gentleman travelling in the interior found himself in the midst of a very rough and somewat disagreeable crowd. Suddenly as he was beginning to find his position decidedly unpleasant and likely to grow worse, a man elbowed his way through the mob and by words and gestures implored the foreigner to accompany him home where some relative was dving from the effects of opium. Our friend hastily provided himself with a small phial of mustard from his house-host, and went to visit the sick person. He found, as hehad expected that the man had attempted to commit suicide by opium and was in a fair way to die. The remedy he applied was as simple as it was efficacious. He made a weak solution of mustard and water in a tea-pot and poured a good cupful of it down the would be suicide's throat. The effect was -what may be imagined, and after a yery mauvals quart-d'heure the man recovered So much our friend expected; but the sequel took him by surprise. The Chinese fell on their kness and ko-t'owed to him, then hoisted his chair upon their shoulder with the most frantic demonstrations delight, escorted him in a body back to his boat, and with every appearance of the profoundest gratitude ko-towed again as he sailed away. THE PIONEER PREACHES COMFORT One view of the great silver question has not unnaturally been left out of sight a good deal in discussions on the subject. It is so horrible for holders of rupees, and for people whose future is represented in rupees, to find silver falling like a thermometer in a frost, that they may be excused for not realizing that the world at large cannot but be better off when any of the good things it enjoys becomes cheaper and more abundant. world's wealth, as much as coal or petroleum If new mines suddenly promised us coal at Dudley if he were unhappy at the prospect. But except for this miserable complication about rupees, we ought all in the same way to be enchanted at the prospect of silver growing cheap. People who have hitherto to put up with nickel spoons will have silver spoons in future. Let the dismal depreciation of the metal or the delightful reduction in price, as it is to every one except us poor wretched holders of rupees, go far enough, and every article of household use which we are now content to have of baser metal, may be of silver. Nor though the saucepans in every decent kitchen may come to be made of the clean and wholesome material now reserved for the drawing room teapot, will the accumulation of plate in any household weigh upon the servants' minds, for who would care to steal a frying pan merely for the sake of the old silver? every way, after Anglo-Indians are wiped out of the account, the world will be greatly | Gold Leaf, the better if silver and tin approximate in price as in complexion. PROPOSAL FOR ESTABLISHING TEA-TRADE BETWEEN KANGRA AND EASTERN TURKISTAN."

This pamphlet, if it had not been so sanguine in tone, would have been more persuasive, but when a writer seems to make light of the difficulties in his way, we begin to suspect the enterprise. Not that he overlooks the difficulties. On the contrary, he devotes eight pages out of 19 to them, but each difficulty is put up like an Aunt Sally on a barrel to be knocked down at the first shot, and some are not put up at all. For instance, the serious question of loss among baggage animals, and the necessity for a strong guard over the caravan en route. are not referred to. Again the writer omits to notice the fact that as soon as a regular tea trade is started, the local Government will establish toll-houses along the road and again, that the Kangra tea, even if lowered in price to the minimum compatible with profit on the sale, will not be able to undersell the via Lhassa tea which is carried to market by forced labour. There are other points which taken in the aggregate with these make necessary an important deduction from the author's estimate of profits. On the other hand, there is little room for doubt as to the enterprise paying eventually, if sufficient pluck and money are forthcoming to start it. In 1867 a considerable quantity of Kangra tea was sont across the Himalayas by the Vazir of Mandi and fetched fair prices. In 1873 the export of Kangra tea viá Kulu, Cashmere, and Rampore, aggregated 281 maunds valued at Rs. 32.448. From the statistics recently published by the Punjab Government, we find that during 1874-75 the total export of tea from the province was 19.379 maunds valued at Rs. 20,64,956. Of this large amount, only 2,412 maunds went northward, that is, to Cashmere, Ladak, and Yarkand, and of this only 331 maunds to the last. Whether it was Indian tea is not stated; but with regard to the whole exports the official reporter says, "the bulk is probably China tea." However this may be, a certain trade in tea with Yarkand is now established, and if the Kangra planters can make-sure of their tea being popular in Yerkand, where public teste is both fastidious and capricious, and will heartily unite for the enterprise, an El Dorado may of course be tapped. Mean while, the Central Asian Trading Company is in the field, and shareholders are satisfied with the returns of the first venture; but the following from the Punjab Report, supported as it is by the opinion of the Company's manager and every traveller to Yarkand, is worthy of attention by those purposing to embark in trans-Himalayan tea trade on a large scale. "The general conclusion which the Finanpial Commissioner atrives at is, there is no opening for direct trade with Yarkand on the seals attempted in this expedition (the Central Asian Trading Company's caravan) ! the trade is in the hands of the Amir: the frierchants appear to be creatures of his own. or so entirely under his influence that unless he allows them to buy and sell they cannot

THE OLD MAN'S DREAM.

O for one hour of youthful joy! · Give back my twentieth spring! I'd rather laugh a bright-haired boy. Than reign a gray haired king. Off with the wrinkled spoils of age; Away with learning a crown; Tear out life's wisdom-written page,

- And cast its trophies down. One moment let my life-blood stream From boyhood's fount to fame. Give me one giddy, reeling dream.

Of life, and love, and fame. My listening angel heard the prayer, And calmly smiling said : "If I but touched the silvered hair. Thy hasty wish had sped.

"But is there nothing in the track, To bid thee fondly stay, While the swift seasons hurry back, To find the wished for day?"

Ab, truest soul of woman kind. Without thee what were life? One bliss I cannot leave behind-I'll take my precious wife. The angel took a sapphire pen,

And wrote in rainbow hue,

"The man would be a boy again, And be a husband too. "And is there nothing yet unsaid, Before the change appears ?

Remember all thy gifts have fied With these dissolving years." Why, yes, I would one favor more; My fond paternal joys-I could not bear to lose them all ;

I'll take my girls and boys.' The smiling angel dropped his pen, "Why, this will never do The man would be a boy again. And be a father too!"

And so I laughed. My laughter woke The household with its noise. I wrote my dream when morning broke. And kept my girls and boys. -Oliver Wendell Holmes.

THE PHILADELPHIA EXHIBITION. (Sydney Morning Herald, May 18.)

The Philadelphia Exhibition begins to-day. and continues during the next six months The formal close of the Exhibition will take place on the 10th of November, but the Cen-Lonniel Buildings which began to be occupied on the 1st of January will not be finally cleared till the 81st of December.

centre of the universe.' It will not be forgotten that the American Exhibition is to be held as a national celeworld, but the national events which it is their independence of the rest of the world. In the year 1876 the United States are commemorating this epoch by inviting the rest of the world, and Great Britain especially, to a gigantic entertainment at Philadelphia. -The Americans will take care that the Exhibition itself shall went nothing that can give it grandeur and completeness; but such an Exhibition will have an interest, not only from the fact that it is to be a gathering of all the nations, but also from the fact that this gathering is to take place as a world-wide celebration of the American Centennial. There are, of course, some people in America who would greatly like the Battle of Long Island and the evacuation of Boston to be celebrated in a very different way; but the nobler sentiment of the American people as a whole has decided that the United States will be better able to rejoice over the victories that were achieved a century ago if they invite the rest of the world to join them, and that the noblest commemoration which a nation can make of the past is the one that is best calculated to qualify it for the part it will have to play in the future.

The United States have not usually been credited with too much respect for other and much older nations; and other and older nations, in dealing with American weaknesses and eccentricities, may have too often forgetten that America is less than a chundred years old, It is a good omen that something like the Philadelphia Exhibition has turned up, that America may have an opportunity of knowing other people better, and that other people may have an equal opportunity of knowing America better. It cannot have escaped anybody's notice that people have a very common habit of turning up their notes and of sneering at certain things in this world as " American," as if the word were the sum total of vulgarity. It has been unfoliunate in no small degree that the wrong side of American society and of American literature is the slde with which the everyday world has been most famillar. But if mankind in general have failed to might be omulated by those who are outside, America herself thay have sometimes failed to see that there are a few of the things necessary to the greatness of a people which she would be able to is it a little better by seeing a little more of the world. Young nations require to be dor-Essted by old ones, and old nations, though the may not know it, as truly require to be corrected by young once. It is a hanny omen, therefore, that America has resolved to invite the world to be its guest for six months of its centennial weer I and it is not 1686 a happy omen that Great Britain and the rect of the world have expressed themselves as quite glad to accept Americe's invitation

Nobody will be surprised to learn that America is determined to make the Philadelphia Exhibition the biggest of all Exhibitions. Everything American is gigattic. - Its rivers, its cataracts, its railways, its hotels, its orators, its victories, its robberles. are all on a scale of unsurpassed or of unequalled greatness. Hence it would be but of all keeping if the American Exhibition were not more extensive and mere magnificent then all the Eshibitions which paper has given a few parisulate of the Emperor who made him a visite." Do link all events a wonder of lightness to advantage of the experience of the five Exhibitions of London, Paris, and Vienna. According to the latest estimates, the areas and probable cost of the Exhibition buildings are as follows :-

A significant and somewhat startling rumour reaches me from a high quarter. Proposals have been made by the Nizam's Government to our India Office to re-annex to Hyderabad the Berar State, which, for political and other cogent reasons, was transferred to British rule less than a quarter of a century ago. What is more extraordinary is, that the Marquis of Salisbury seems for the moment disposed to listen to, if not to countenance, the monstrous proposition. Surely the records of the past mismanagement of the Berars by the Nizam's Government, and the existing ferment in his dominions, should make any British statesman scout the idea upon its suggestion. If this is the mission upon which Sir Salar Jung, under the auspices of a noble Duke, is coming to London, the sooner he is ordered away from Downing-street the better.

A newspaper posted unpaid, or a packet of newspapers posted either unpaid insufficiently paid, is treated as an unpaid or insufficiently paid book packet of the same weight.

The postage must be prepaid either by an wrapper.

No newspaper can now be sent through the post a second time for the original postage. For each transmission a fresh postage is required.

Every newspaper must be posted either without a cover (in which case it must not be fastened, whether by means of gum. sealing wax, rostage stamp, or otherwise) or in a cover entirely open at both ends, so as to admit of easy removal for examination. If this rule be infringed the newspaper is treated as a letter.

When, cowing to a great and unusual influx of letters, books, &c., the transmission or delivery of the letters would be delayed if the whole mail were dealt with without distinction, book-packets may be kept back till the next despatch or delivery.

The limit of size for a book-packet addressed to any place abroad is 24 mehes in length and 12 inches in width or depth. Exceptions. - No packet for Algeria, Azores, Cape de Verd Islands, France, Madeira, or Portugal, or for Egypt, Syria, or Turkey, when sent by French Packet, must be above 18 inches in length, width, or depth.

AS REGARDS PATTERNS.

They must not be of intrinsic value. This rule excludes all articles of a saleable nature, and indeed whatever may have a value of its own, apart from its mere use as a pattern; and the quantity of any material sent ostensibly as a pattern must not be so great that it can fairly be considered as having on this ground an intrinsic value.

Pattern and Sample Post to colonies and foreign countries is restricted to bond fide trade patterns or samples of merchandise. Goods sent for sale, or in execution of an order (however small the quantity may be), or any articles sent by one private individual to another, which are not actual patterns or samples, are not admissible.

Patterns or samples, when practicable, or of articles relating thereto, or to other must be sent in covers open at the ends, and in such a manner as to be easy of examination. But samples of seeds, drugs, and such like articles, which cannot be sent in covers of this kind,-but such articles only,-may be posted enclosed in boxes, or bags of linen, of other material, fastened in such a manner that they may be readily 3rd. The full title and date of publication opened; or, in the case of seeds, &c., for the United States of America, Holland, vided such closed bags are transparent, so as to enable the Officers of the Post Office readily to satisfy themselves as to the nature of the contents.

There must be no writing or printing upon or in any packet except the address of the person for whom it is intended, the address of the sender, a trade mark or

Samples of invrinsic value must not be sent to any foreign country except United States; and in the case of France samples of eider down, raw or thread silk, woollen or goats' hair thread, vanilla, saffron. carmine, or isinglass, are considered to fall under this rule if they weigh more than three ounces; and up to this weight raw and spun silk as well as coloured and twisted silk, may be sent to Germany.

Miscellaneous Notices.

The Post Office is not, by law, responsible for any loss or inconvenience which may arise from the non-delivery, mis-sending, or mis-delivery of any letter, book, or other postal packet (even if the packet be registered); nor is the Post Office responsible for any injury which a packet may sustain during its transmission.

To guard against such injury all postal packets which are likely to suffer from stamping or from great pressure should be placed in strong covers; and even with this precaution no fragile article should be sen through the Post. It should be remembered that every packet has to be handled several times; that it is exposed to considerable pressure and friction in the mail bag ; and that, whenever the bag has in the course of its transmission to be transferred by means of the railway apparatus, the risk of injury is much increased. No information can be given respecting letters which pass through a Post Office except to the persons to whom they are addressed; and in no other way is official information of a private character allowed to be made public. A Postmaster may however, give an address if he has no reason to believe that the person whose address it.

is would disapprove of his doing so. Postmasters are not allowed to return any letter or other packet to the writer or sender, or to any one else, or to delay forwarding it to its destination according to the address, even though a request to such effect be written thereon. Postmasters are not bound to give change nor are they author sed to demand change and when money is paid at a Post Office. whether as change or otherwise, no question as to its right amount, goodness, or weight can be entertained after it has been removed from the counter.
